

TEMP POWER SYSTEMS®

We Have The Power To Build.

19 November 2008

To Whom it May Concern:

Our company provides temporary power to residential and commercial companies in Arizona, Nevada, and Southern California. We have hundreds of customer with specific billing requirements and rental billing methods. We found many accounting software systems that we liked but particularly liked MAS500 but finding software that would easily accommodate our rental billing was a much bigger challenge. We had been searching for a rental system for a good number of years; most systems would address certain aspects of our rental operation while not addressing others. The IIG's Rental Order Processing System offers a wide range of features that addressed our needs. Our order entry team is able to enter orders on line, sales and rental items can be processed on the same order. Different rental billing periods can be entered for each rental order line.

Our Order Entry Team can also view the time based availability of each item and specific serial numbers can be reserved for a given order from the Order Entry program. The history of rentals is kept for each serial number of a given item.

Our invoicing department can generate invoices based on invoicing terms setup for each customer. The system allows for invoicing upon return of goods, up front or periodically based on user defined billing codes; 28 day billing, month end, set day of the month, or weekly.

The management of open rentals is streamlined by the system allowing our users to process early returns; partial returns; add items to rentals; bill for missing or damaged products, while allowing for a grace period to return the missing products. When returning items we can return multiple orders on one return document.

IIG is there for immediate training and provides timely support to address our issues. If you have any questions please feel free to contact me at one of the numbers listed below.
